GERMANS LOST
16 OR 17 SHIPSBritish Insist Two Battle
Cruisers Were Sunk in
Jutland FightENGAGEMENT ENDS
AMBITION OF KAISERTo Force a Way Through British
Blockade for a Few Fast Cruisers—
Pressure on Russian Wing in Courland Also Relieved.

LONDON, June 6.—In the absence of direct reports from Admirals Jellicoe and Beatty concerning the Jutland sea fight, interest still centers in England on the question of the number of ships lost by the Germans and the identity of the larger vessels.

Definite evidence, it is stated, in official circles, has now been obtained that the German losses were deliberately falsified by Berlin, and that the following ships were totally destroyed:

Two battle cruisers.
At least one, and probably two, battleships.

Four light cruisers.
Eight destroyers.
One submarine.

The rest of the German battle cruiser squadron may have reached home ports, but the ships are all severely damaged, it is stated, as also were ships of the Konig class, which came under the fire of part of the British battle fleet.

Naval officials point out that on account of their proximity to home ports, the ships of the German vessels, even as badly injured as was the British cruiser Warrior, would have been able to make port.

As to the identity of the battleships and battle cruisers only fragmentary information is available, so far as the public or press know.

Returned officers of the fleet say that they are able to identify the lost battle cruisers as the Hindenburg and the Lutzow. According to another version the two lost were the Derflinger and the Lutzow.

From the same Danish source whence came a report yesterday that the 25,000-ton battle cruiser Seydlitz was sighted Thursday morning off the west coast, pursued by British warships and badly damaged, comes the statement that it is now believed that the Seydlitz was sunk. A despatch to an Aalborg newspaper from Ribe, Jutland, reports that persons living in Schleswig have received word that relatives on board the Seydlitz were killed.

So far as the German denial of British assertions are concerned, it is pointed out that the Germans did not admit the loss of the cruiser Ebbing until after the arrival of survivors from her in Holland, and this is cited as confirmation that the Germans conceal their losses until forced by circumstances to reveal them. This is made possible, it is argued, by the fact that the British losses occurred in daylight and are known to the Germans, while the German losses took place in twilight or after dark.

Should the British estimate of the German losses prove correct, naval writers say that it will be many a long day before the German fleet shows itself again in the North Sea, and even should the estimate prove excessive the damage done to the German battle cruisers, it is said, will put an end to raids on English coasts. After the Doggerbank battle the Derflinger and Moltke were five months in dock, and it is believed that the German ships of this class, engaged in last week's battle, were more severely damaged than the two named.

The result of the battle, it is also suggested, puts an end to the German ambition, which many believe they were attempting to realize last week, of forcing a way through the British blockade for a few fast cruisers, which, if the scheme had been successful, would have undertaken to raid allied shipping in the Atlantic. With the loss of several cruisers and damage done to others German now, it is argued, has not the ships suitable for this undertaking.

Another advantage set forth as an outcome of the battle, is that it relieves the pressure on the Russian army wing in Courland to which the German fleet was giving valuable support. Moreover, the sinking of more German destroyers and the damage done to others will make it easier for British submarines to enter the Baltic and cruise there. It is already reported from Copenhagen that German cruisers have been withdrawn from the Courland coast, while German destroyers have not been seen for a week in the southern Baltic.

WRIGHT'S SENTENCE
IS FOUR MONTHSWhittingham Young Man Pleads Guilty to One Offense of Furnishing — Merton Reed Signs Pledge.

Walter Wright of Whittingham, who was arrested while hiding in the barn at his mother's home in Whittingham early on the morning of May 28, was sentenced yesterday afternoon in the municipal court to not less than four months nor more than six months in the house of correction at Merton Reed, 16, also of Whittingham. Reed, who disclosed where he obtained his liquor after being arrested for assaulting his father, May 27, signed the pledge and was allowed to go free. He had been held in Newfane jail as a witness in default of $500 bail.

Wright, when arrested by Deputy Sheriff Frank T. Wellman and Constable Reed of Whittingham, was in a bad condition physically from over indulgence in liquor and exposure. He was taken to the Memorial hospital for treatment and later to Newfane jail to await a hearing. He was brought to court yesterday afternoon and pleaded guilty to one offense of furnishing, upon advice of his counsel, Chase & Chase, and with the consent of the state's attorney.

After sentence had been pronounced Wright thanked the court and the state's attorney and the sheriff's department for their consideration and promised that when he got out of jail the officials would have no further trouble with him.

Wright is said to be a clever natural musician and with unusual ability in other lines of endeavor, but for some time before his arrest he had been drinking heavily.

CUTTING ENGLISH TIMBER.

Canadian Woodsmen at Work in Forest of Great Britain.

LONDON, June 6.—Expert Canadian lumbermen are scattered through many forests of England cutting down trees for the purpose of "making a battering-ram wherewith to win the war." These brown, lithe backwoods men—half-soldiers and half-trappers—were brought to England from the Dominion because of their knowledge of the forests, to turn into a war asset the vast and valuable stretches of British timberland. Apart from the timber proper, which is so much in demand for military purposes, the by-products are valuable, for they include tanning bark, turpentine and potash.

The first work of the Canadians was the marking down and surveying of certain tracts of forest land, "blazing" the trees—mainly the soft wood trees of pine and fir and so arranging their scheme of attack that the beauties of the rural scenes would not be unnecessarily marred. With the arrival of the plants and milling machinery the lumbermen began turning out wood in all sorts of forms, from railway ties to matches.

There are still left in England two and a half million acres of forest, the crown woods alone covering about 125,000 acres.

YOUNG ESTEE LOCATED.

Will Meet His Father at Chicago—
His Disappearance Unexplained.

MONTPELIER, June 6.—James E. Estee left Saturday night for Chicago, where he will meet his son, Rush G. Estee, of New York city, who telegraphed from Minneapolis that he was safe and well and on his way home. The younger Estee has been missing since Wednesday evening, when he left the yacht party at Duluth, Minn., and had not been located. The telegram contained no particulars and failed to explain his peculiar disappearance.

GLEE CLUB GIVES
PLEASING CONCERT

High School Students Render Pretentious Program with Credit to Themselves and Instructor.

The small audience that gathered in the main room of the high school building last evening for the annual High School Glee club concert enjoyed a treat. The program was a rather pretentious one for a high school glee club and for that reason the excellent choral work, with ample volume and precision of attack, was the more to be commended and enjoyed. It reflected credit on Miss Lucy A. Proctor, supervisor of music, under whose instruction the chorus had been and under whose direction the program was given.

In addition to the choral work Stewart P. Stearns, '18, was heard in a piano solo, in which his work was delightful, as always, and he responded to a prolonged encore. Miss Lamolite C. Langworthy, '16, pleased her audience with a violin solo, and she, too, was obliged to respond to an encore. Another especially enjoyable feature was the baritone solo, Rollin, '17, and his encore number was as much enjoyed as was his solo. Sanford C. Plumb, '16, and Miss Harriet E. Arnold, '17, had incidental solos in choral numbers, and their work was of a pleasing character. Miss Jessie L. Hawley was at the piano during the evening and her accompaniments had much to do with the pleasure of the entertainment. The program follows:
